

Kelly Lamb

Kelly Lamb is a multi-media Artist/Designer, who after 15 years of living in New York City has moved to sunny Los Angeles. Kelly's product designs are being represented by Areaware in NYC. Kelly has designed interiors for Malo restaurant in Los Angeles, the Echo nightclub LA, and has done interiors in NYC as well as upstate NY. She has had two solo exhibitions in NYC and has been included in numerous international shows and museum installations, including the Andrea Rosen Gallery, NY, The Spencer Brownstone Gallery, NY, The New Museum, NY, Agnes B., Paris, Beaux Arts, Paris, Art Basel, Switzerland/ Miami, and the Armory Show, NY. Her work has received reviews in Art News, Flash Art, The New Yorker, Time Out, and Art Net. Kelly has designed and produced artist's campaigns with corporations such as, Salvatore Ferragamo, and Coke Cola. Lamb's photographs have also been featured in numerous publications including the New York Times, Artforum, W, and Surface Magazine. Lamb has received a Bessie award and a Tiffany Grant as part of a collaborative Art group called the B-Team. Kelly Lamb grew up in Marblehead Massachusetts and graduated from Bennington College.